About the Club

The Canberra Fisherman's Club Inc. is a sport fishing club that endeavours to promote a social awareness among its members, single or family. General meetings are held on the second Tuesday of every month at the Eastlakes Football Club No 3 Oxley St Griffith ACT beginning at 7:30pm. All members and visitors are most welcome.

Members of the Canberra Fisherman's Club are eligible to set Club Records and, upon payment of an Australian National Sport Fishing Association (ANSA) affiliation fee, also able to set Australian records, and World records (through ANSA affiliation with the International Game Fishing Association (IGFA)).

Aims of the Club

- To promote sport fishing
- To foster the art of angling
- To teach the art of angling to new members and particularly juniors
- To promote the study and conservation of fish species and the environment
- To co-operate with and support other bodies with similar aims and ideals.

The Club also supports the Recfish Australia National Code of Practice for Recreational and Sport Fishing, which endorses:

1. Quickly and correctly returning unwanted or illegal catch to the water
2. Quickly killing fish that are kept for consumption
3. Using only appropriate, legal tackle, attending gear and valuing the catch
4. Taking no more than our immediate needs
5. Supporting and encouraging activities that preserve, restore and enhance fisheries and fish habitat
6. Understanding and observing all fishing regulations and reporting illegal fishing activities
7. Preventing pollution and protecting wildlife by removing rubbish
8. Taking care when boating and anchoring to avoid damage to wildlife and habitat
9. Using established roads and tracks
10. Reporting environmental damage
11. Avoiding unnecessary interactions with wildlife species and their habitats
12. Practising courtesy towards all those who use inland and coastal waters
13. Obtaining permission from landholders and traditional owners before entering their land
14. Caring for our own safety and the safety of others when fishing.

President's Report

What a busy year it's been! The books have now closed on the 2016-17 Club Championship and trophies are being prepared for Presentation Night.

There have been some spectacular captures contributing to the Championship..... and some spectacular failures vying for this year's joke trophies. Make sure you reserve Friday, 1st of September 2017 in your diary for the annual Presentation Night – it will be a great opportunity to show our respect for the achievements of the winners and have a heap of fun remembering what members did to win the joke trophies.

I'm writing this report having just returned home from the Ulladulla Outing. This is usually a great outing if the weather is kind, but on this occasion strong winds and icy conditions made fishing difficult. Keith and I decided against taking the boat outside the Ulladulla harbour after a quick look and a conversation with the Volunteer Marine Rescue radio operator. A quick change of gear saw us heading up to St Georges Basin where we tried all our go-to lures and baits for not even a bite – even the pickers were shut down. The 11 degree water temperature possibly had something to do with it!

Special thanks to Kevin for organising a pile of pizzas for Saturday night – it was great to get everyone together for a few hours to talk tactics and fishing in general.

The next outing will be the first of this year's alpine trout outings. We head up to Buckenderra (Lake Eucumbene) on 19th – 20th August. It will be very cold, but we usually do pretty well at this outing and the bank just below our cabins usually produces fish for me on worms and powerbait. I hope you can join us!

Next meeting will be our Annual General Meeting (AGM). It's on a Wednesday this time (9th August 2017) to fit in with the Eastlakes Football Club's busy end of season timetable. The AGM gives members the opportunity to vote on the executive and committee we want to lead us through the next year. This year, a few of the long-standing committee members are looking to take a break, so it should be a good opportunity for newer members to take on a leadership role. Best of luck to all the candidates – the Canberra Fisherman's Club is very fortunate to have members willing to step forward to guide the Club into the future.

2017-18 is going to be a great year to go fishing and a great year to be a member of the Canberra Fisherman's Club. Best wishes to the new committee!

Keep safe on the water,

Glen Malam

Secretary's Report

For anyone that hasn't renewed their club membership yet, please do so as soon as possible to avoid missing out on everything our club has to offer. You can renew your membership through the web site.

With the club spending money over the last few years to improve it as per member's requests, more information is being uploaded to and I encourage you to log in and have a look. Those that don't have or forgotten their logon details, email me (secretary@canberrafishos.com) and I will reset your password.

Well it's been a quiet for me lately, just a couple of trips down to the coast, for not much result but am looking forward to Burrill Lake for the Ulladulla/Wairo July 2017 Outing. I have seen a few reports online in Social Media of Blue Fin starting to show up off Batemans Bay which is fun for the offshore boaties once you have located them.

I am then off to Mallacoota for seven days of fishing out of the Kayak, with the system being quite large you can be assured that you can easily go a couple of days without fishing the same area even if you launch from the same spot. As usual, different State different length sizes and bag limits and licence means I will need to re-check the rules when I get the fishing licence.

The club needs you as members to think about what the club is doing and are encouraging you to put your hand up for the Committee in August, as I for one will not be putting my hand up again. Six years (I think) in a row is long enough. I don't know how some have done it for longer.

Next general Meeting is also the AGM and is on WEDNESDAY 9 August 2017 at Eastlakes so please try to come along as the club needs you.

Tight lines

Recorder's Report

Hi Everyone

I hope that you have been able to wet a line in this past month and get some good catches. I thought that I would review the attendance at our outings this year.

The smallest outing had just 4 people and the largest had 16 people attending with an average of 10 people attending each outing. The club membership is around 60 people with a regular turn out of around 20 people at our monthly meeting.

Noting at this club meeting this was attended by only about 10 people. This resulted in Mick Jewry taking home six raffle prizes and I was lucky enough to win four.

The next time we get together will be the General meeting in August and I encourage you all to attend that meeting. The Club is only as strong as the members make it. I will be nominating for the recorders position. However, if someone else wants to have a go at this position I will offer my support to that person.

I strongly encourage the membership to put their hand up for a Committee position. I am aware that a number of the committee have held their positions for up to six years and will not be nominating for a committee position. If we do not have a committee we will not have a Club and it would be a sad outcome to wind up the Club that has been around for decades but that will be the result if you the Club members do not step up for a committee position.

So on that note, I encourage all members to turn up at the meeting and the continued existence of the club rests in your hands.

ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING

WEDNESDAY

The Canberra Fisherman's Club will hold its Annual General Meeting at 7.30 pm on Wednesday, 9 August 2017, at the Eastlakes Football Club, 3 Oxley Street, Griffith, ACT.

We require all financial members to be in attendance for the meeting to achieve the current quorum requirements for the AGM.

Also, we will be looking for a few new committee members this year. I will seek re-election again this year and will be happy to chat to anyone interested in joining me on the Committee. If you are interested but would like to know a little more about the role, feel free to call me on 0402 560 880.

So we look forward to seeing you all at the AGM on Wednesday, 9 August 2017 at 7.30 pm.

Fishing photography tip and tricks - part one: Cameras

by Anthony Heiser

A 1.72 kg Cemetery Beach Australian Salmon, courtesy of my new Shimano Catana from Otto's Tackle World Canberra. I took this photo with my Smart Phone. While I prefer taking photos with my Digital SLR, I had too many things to carry on my own from the car park down to the beach and the risk of damaging the camera with sand was too high.

Next month is the start of the next volume of the Canberra Fisherman's Club Newsletter and the start of another 12 months of the monthly photo comp. Jon Vogel and Phil Lawrence dominated the photo comp for 2016-17 and it is no surprise: they both capture some fantastic fish and they are prepared to put a little thought into how they frame their photos. Hopefully, I can offer you some tips that will enable you to give Jon and Phil some friendly competition in the 2017-18 photo comp.

Before I go any further, I am not a professional photographer. Rather, Photography is part of a compulsive and obsessive need on my part to record everything around me. I have been doing this since I was eight after I given a Brownie 110 Cartridge Pocket Camera for Christmas. Over the years, I have learnt many tips and tricks over the years through trial and error, attending workshops, copying ideas from fishing magazines, and learning off other Club members.

In this newsletter, I will talk about the different kinds of cameras, and then move onto how to 'frame' your photos in next month's newsletter.

For close-up photos on a fine day your smart phone can take great grip and grin pictures like this one of Colin Clark with a Bream at the Narooma Convention.

For our purposes, cameras can be grouped into three types: smart phones, compact digital cameras, and digital single lens reflex (DSLRs). All three types of cameras are capable of taking good photos these days. But each type of camera has their limitations. Choosing which camera to take on your next fishing trip will depend on what you want to take photos of and under what conditions.

For example, let's say you are on a trip up the Top End chasing Barra. During the day, your smart phone will take great photos of you holding your fish under sunny conditions and even under mild overcast conditions. Depending on how sunny the weather is, you might need to remove your hat as the flash on the smart phone is not powerful enough to fill in the shadows on your face. The flash on a compact digital camera and DSLR will be strong enough to fill in those shadows. Your smart phone will also take great wide-angle shots of the scenery under sunny and mild overcast conditions.

One of the great things about fishing is the wildlife we encounter, whether it be a White-Bellied Sea Eagle snatching a Bream out of the water, a pod of dolphins or Humpback Whales, or a crocodile sunning itself on the bank. Chances are, your smart phone won't be able to take great photos – either the animals will be too small or the picture will be blurred because they are travelling too fast. You will get better photos with the optical zoom of a compact digital camera but, you will need a DSLR with a fast shutter speed and 250 mm telephoto lens if you want a photo that won't look out of place on the front cover of National Geographic.

While DSLRs definitely take much better photos under a wider variety of situations, they are bulky and heavy. A DSLR camera might not be practical on small boats, rainy weather, or when you've got your hands full carrying your fishing gear down to the beach or riverbank.

DSLRs are also expensive and vulnerable to the elements. For example, I rarely take my DSLR with me when I go beach fishing as the risk of sand damaging the camera is very high. I learnt this the hard way on day one on first trip to Broome in 2011.

Regardless of the type of camera you use, you need to know how to compose a photograph. The basic techniques for composing good photos applies to all cameras. I'll share some of those techniques in Part 2 of this article in the next newsletter.

Coila Lake an hour after sunrise taken with my iPhone. Smart phones can take stunning wide-angle scenery shots providing there is adequate lighting.

You will need a DSLR with a decent telephoto lens to get great wildlife shots as most animals will be too far away for a smart phone or compact digital cameras. In some cases, you might get close enough with your smart phone although most animals will flee if you do. Others might eat you if you get too close like this six metre Saltie on the banks of the Victoria River.

Pros and cons of smart phones, compact digital cameras and DSLRs

Smart phones

Pros

- Easy to use
- Easy to carry
- Can share photos and post on social media instantly (some might think that's a bad thing!)
- Sounds obvious but being a phone and camera in one, it's one less thing to carry when you are fishing.

Good for

- Close up shots of anglers showing off their captures (i.e. 'grip and grin' shots)
- Close-up shots of fish
- Wide angle scenery shots

Not great for

- Wildlife shots
- Zooming in on distant features in the scenery
- Photos on very overcast days and under poor lighting

Cons

- Built in flash is not powerful enough to fill in shadows on people's faces on bright sunny days.
- Built in flash can flare in photos at night time
- Poorly composed photo cannot be salvaged by cropping
- Not waterproof, shock proof or sand proof

Compact Digital Cameras

Pros

- Easy to use
- Easy to carry
- Quality depends on the make and model
- More options than smart phones
- Some room for error in composition of photos
- Flash is usually bright enough to fill in shadows on people's faces on bright sunny days.
- Different settings on most cameras can compensate for different lighting conditions
- Some are shock proof and waterproof

Good for

- Grip and close up shots
- Wide angle scenery shots
- Close-up shots of fish
- Some wildlife shots
- Zooming in on distant features in the scenery in limited circumstances

Not great for

- Most wildlife shots
- Zooming in on distant features in most circumstances

Cons

- Some cameras only use flashes on automatic settings meaning it won't allow you to use a flash to fill in shadows on faces on sunny days.
- Photo quality sometimes compromised for various features (e.g. water proofing, GPS features)
- Photo quality can vary with the make and model of the camera.

Digital Single Lens Reflex

Pros

- Top quality and versatility
- Plenty of room for error in photo composition – you can easily crop a photo without losing photo quality
- If you know how to use a DSLR, they can take photos under most conditions you will come across as an angler
- Can increase the range of photos with various accessories such as an assortment of different lenses, larger flashes, tripods, cable releases, remote shooting etc.

Good for

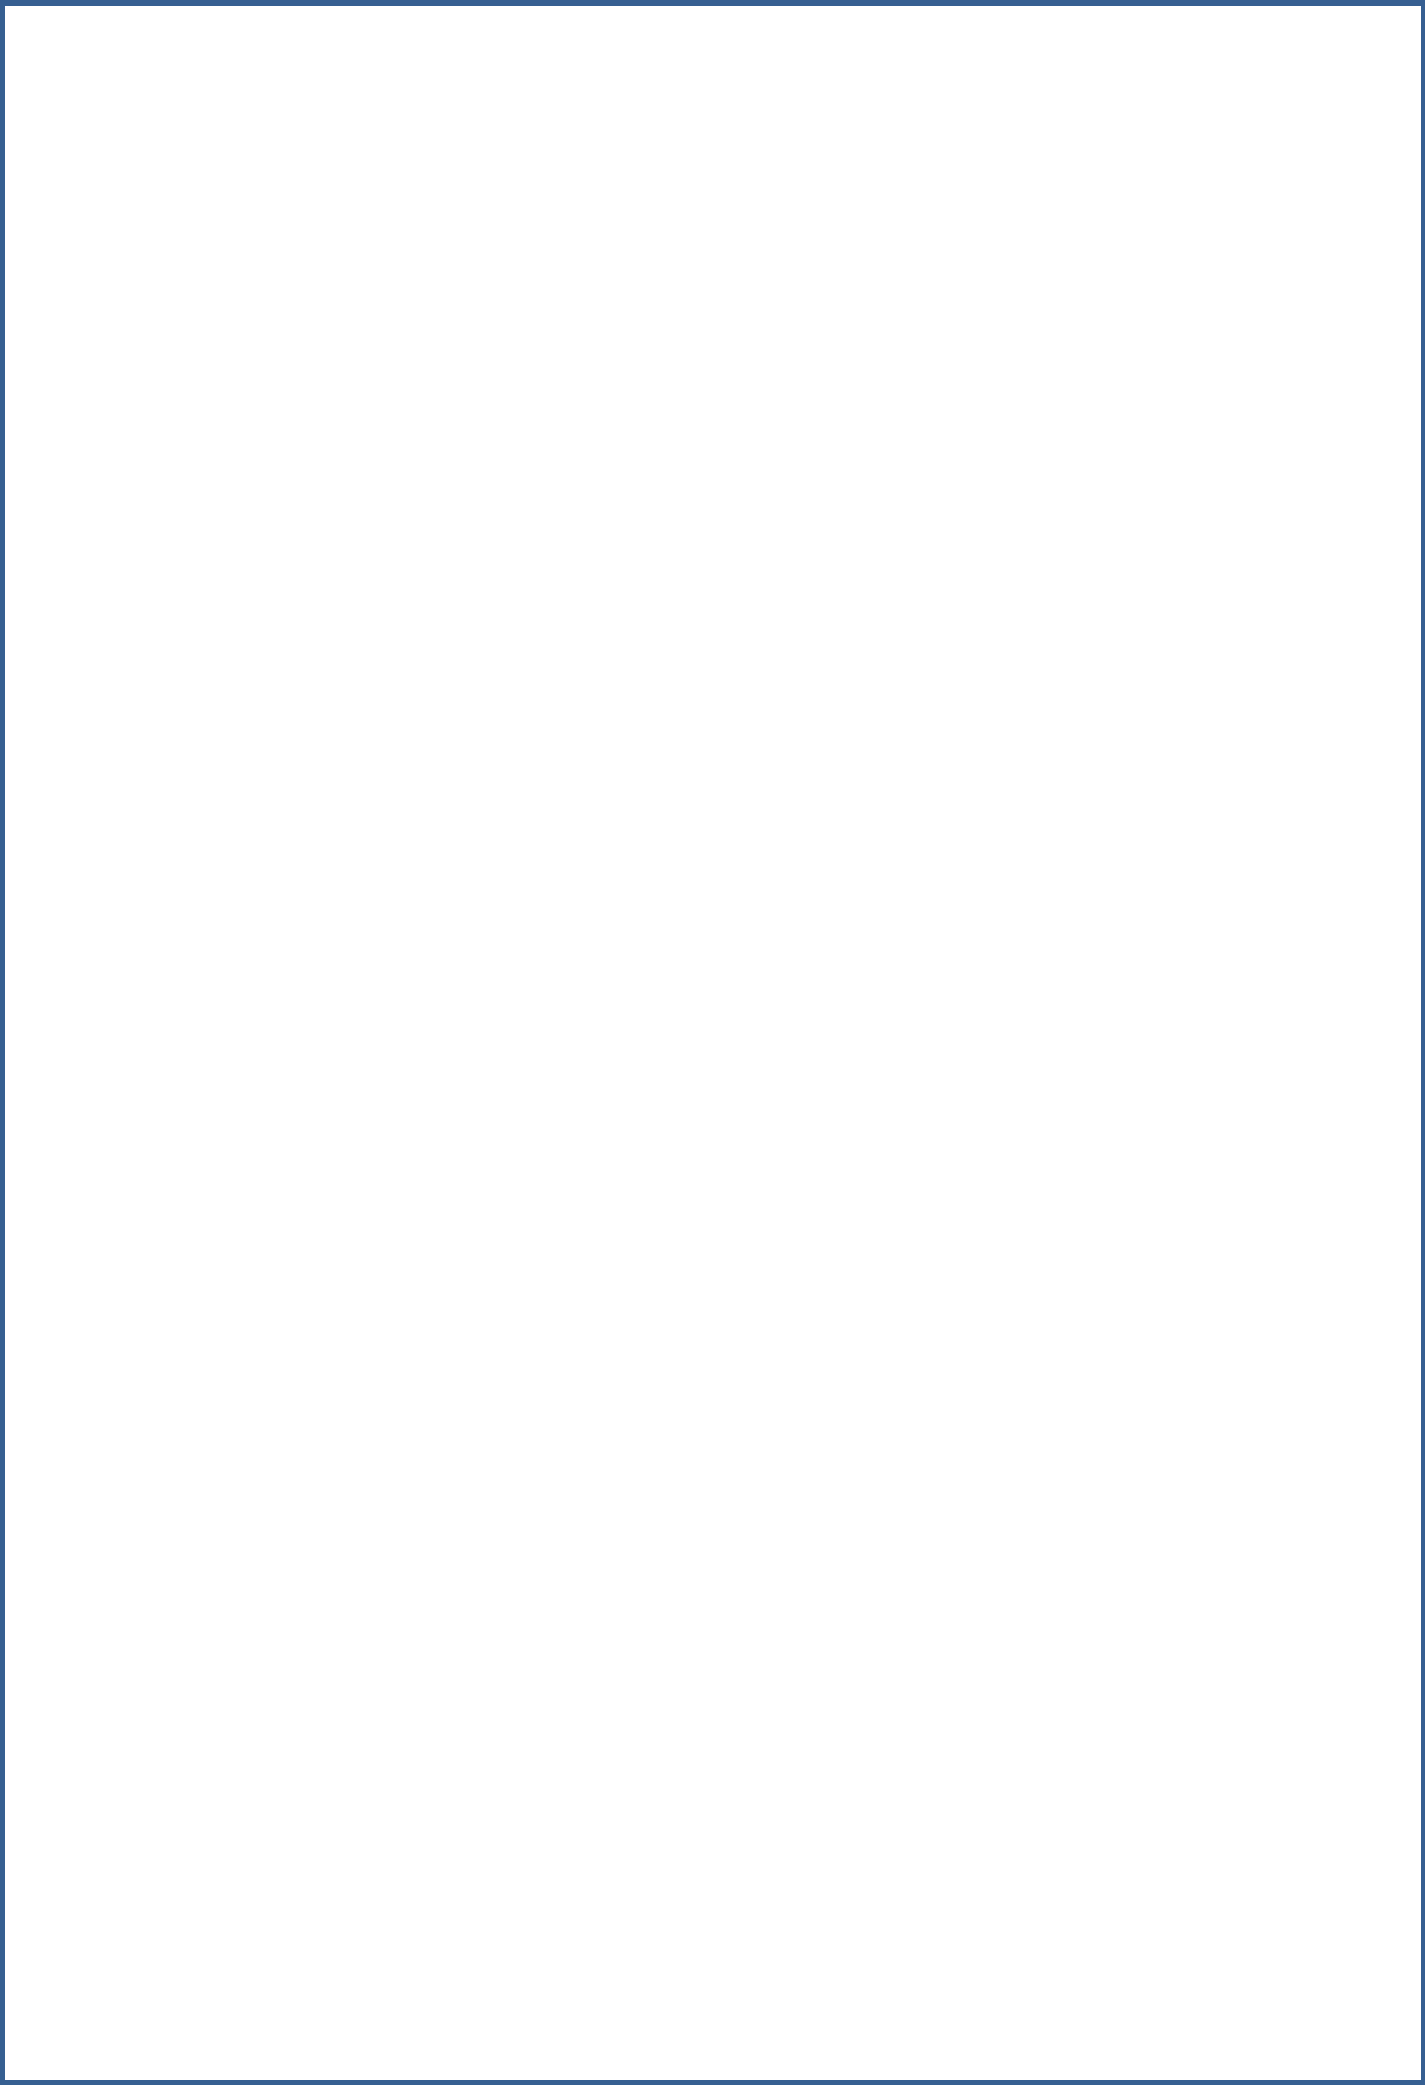

- Just about anything and everything.

Not great for

- Can't think of anything to write here

Cons

- Bulky and heavy
- Expensive
- Not waterproof!
- Not sand proof!
- Fragile!
- Harder to operate in the hands of a novice
- Experience photographers can make mistakes too with the settings
- Dust on image sensor shows up against blue sky
- Bulky and heavy

Total Length Award species for 2017-18

The Total Length Awards bring on healthy competition from the ranks of the CFC and for 2017-18, the target species are Australian Salmon for the Saltwater section and all Salmonoid species (which includes Brown Trout, Rainbow Trout, Brook Trout, Atlantic Salmon and Chinook Salmon). The new target species applies from 1 July 2017.

The target species for the 2017-18 fishing year are:

Saltwater section: Australian Salmon

Freshwater section: All Salmonoid species

How many metres can you catch?

Thank you to the sponsors of the 2017 Canberra Carp Out!

We thank you for support and for being such a big part of this year's event!

From the Editor

Once again, this has been a busy month for me personally. I have been working very hard to wrap up the last nine years of my current job managing Indigenous Community Safety grants before I start my new job in Indigenous Mental Health First Aid on 24 July 2017.

Doing a hand-over of the last nine-years of my life was a lot harder and took a lot longer than even I could imagine and I have spent most weekends working to complete everything before the start of my new role.

So I've had very little time to go fishing but I was lucky to get out on the Bay with Chris Guion and his son Jackson to chase Flathead and Snapper. We succeeded on the first target species but came up short on the second...instead, filling the esky with Southern Maori Wrasse, Sweep and one Pigfish, and one Blue Morwong. And we got to see a few Humpback Whales on their way to Hervey Bay. But apart from that, I've pretty much been in fishing exile. This also meant I've been very tardy putting up the July photo comp entries.

A big thank you to the everyone who submitted photos to the June Photo Comp. There were some great entries in June. Please start sending me your entries for the August photo comp competition for a chance to win a $20 Tackle World voucher if you are the monthly winner.

The rules if the photo comp are:

- Members can submit up to two photos per month
- The photo must either be taken by the member submitting the photo or a photo of the member
- No photo shopping or other digital enhancements are allowed

You will see that I've finally got around to writing my article on tips and tricks for better fish comp entries I promised several months ago in an earlier newsletter. It has taken me a while to get started on this. I will have more tips and tricks in the next newsletter. I'll probably spread this out over three newsletters. For anyone needing more tips and tricks before the August Newsletter, then have a look at my article 'Smarter Photos with your Smart Phone' I published back in 2014.

Finally, if you have some gear to sell, swap, wanted or barter then send through the details to info@canberrafishos.com. Also, a reminder for the lucky member number draw at each general meeting, you must be there to win the cash or it JACKPOTS each week until a winning member is present.
